

Experience Tradition Reborn!

Have you seen the all-new National Golf Club at Tantallon? It has just undergone a $4M renovation and it is fabulous.

It shouldn't take an act of Congress to ensure that golfers in and around the District of Columbia can enjoy world-class golf a mere chip-shot from the seat of the nation's power. It didn't! What it took was the foresight and dedication of the new ownership of Tantallon to revitalize a once-grand golf club into the new National Golf Club at Tantallon.

The golf course at National Golf Club was built on a formidable site and has stood the test of time. While the course plays about the same from season to season, perhaps playing best in the fall. You're able to enjoy lower temperatures and take in magnificent fall colors.

Every hole has a special challenge or design feature. These two holes stand out:

* The 15th is a tough par-3 that's 220 yards from the tips; even a low handicapper is happy with a par here; the green has three tiers for some additional fun!

* The 16th offers an inspiring view on a clear day—all the way to the Washington Monument proving that Tantallon is close to D.C. even though it feels like it's right in the middle of the Maryland countryside.
